

Privacy Statement

We are committed to protecting your privacy. We will only use the information that we collect about you lawfully in accordance with the Data Protection Act 1998.

We collect information about you for the following reasons:

Processing your order

Providing service to you

Retaining records of the service we provide to you for a reasonable period following termination

Operating and enforcing any contract in force between you and us

To provide you with the best possible service

We will not e-mail you in the future unless you have given us your consent or unless it is to notify you of support or billing related incidents or incidents or occurrences that we feel you may wish to become alerted to or that may affect your service.

We will not pass your e-mail address to any other person or agency or company unless you agree. The type of information we will collect about you includes:

- your name
- address
- phone number
- email address

We will never collect sensitive information about you without your explicit consent.

The information we hold will be accurate and up to date. You can check the information that we hold about you by emailing us. If you find any inaccuracies we will delete or correct it promptly.

The personal information which we hold will be held securely in accordance with our internal security policy and the law.

If we intend to transfer your information outside the EEA (European Economic Area) we will always obtain your consent first.

We may use technology to track the patterns of behaviour of visitors to our site. This can include using a "cookie" which would be stored on your browser. You can usually modify your browser to prevent this happening. The information collected in this way can be used to identify you unless you modify your browser settings.

Financial and personal information will always be encrypted before being transmitted from you to us via an SSL session.

If you have any questions/comments about privacy, you should email us.
